We envision an Ireland where empowered leaders are working across boundaries to build a vibrant and connected society.

Our mission is to provide inspiring and challenging programmes for motivated leaders, from diverse backgrounds, to connect with each other, expand their perspectives, and create real change in their organisations and communities.
Our impact

Common Purpose develops leaders who can cross boundaries: between sectors and specializations, geographies and generations, backgrounds and beliefs. This enables them to solve complex problems in organizations, cities, and society.

We measure our impact through the eight leadership competencies in our Impact Quadrant.

93% of senior leaders say our programmes have helped them make better decisions

91% of emerging leaders say our programmes have helped them develop inclusive leadership

97% of aspiring young leaders say they are better able to work in collaboration
Our participants are leaders who have reached a tipping point in their careers. Participants come from different sectors, specializations, geographies, generations, backgrounds and beliefs. This diversity is what makes our programmes so special, and enables our participants to learn from each other’s approaches, challenges and visions.

Our intensive programmes provide an opportunity to be open, engaged, and reflective; creating lifelong connections among peers.

Who is Common Purpose for?

Established leaders at senior positions who are facing new challenges beyond their immediate control are given the confidence, connections, and skills to influence change in their organisation and society.

Emerging leaders who have taken on a new leadership position within their organisation learn to recognise diversity and are exposed to the influential decision makers in their cities.

Aspiring young leaders about to take on their first professional role are given perspective on how local leaders face and tackle real challenges.
Our Team

Our professional and highly skilled team is motivated to succeed, dedicated to our vision, and adaptive to new ways of thinking about leadership development. With our supportive network of graduates, advisors, trustees and contributors, Common Purpose are locally focused and globally connected – working to develop leaders in over 70 cities worldwide with more than 75,000 Alumni from over 100 countries.

At Common Purpose Ireland, we are dedicated to developing better leaders and making an impact on society.

Principles

We achieve our vision based on the following principles:

- Commitment to diversity & Inclusion within and beyond our programmes
- Providing opportunity for meaningful, long-term connections
- Creating a safe and welcoming space to be open and reflect
- Remaining independent, sustainable and charitable
- Locally Focused globally connected
Our Common Purpose

Common Purpose is a global organisation, connecting leaders locally and across the globe. We believe that society benefits from people of all ages, backgrounds and cultures working together to help guide and shape the future of their organisations and communities.

Our programmes give people the knowledge, inspiration and connections they need to be effective leaders. We aim to develop leaders who can lead beyond their direct authority and embrace a broader perspective.

The world over, people face complex problems that cross boundaries; those who really want to solve them must stand up and cross boundaries too. Leaders who do this, make organisations and nations work better; engaged leaders are better able to deal with both their own challenges and those of society as a whole.

Common Purpose Ireland prides itself on being an independent leadership organisation. We maintain our independence so we may continue to deliver leadership programmes that embrace diversity and have a long-term impact on graduates. We continue to be self-funded and charitable, so that we can ensure our business is sustainable while remaining accessible to both large and small-scale organisations.

Our challenge over the next three years is to bolster those connections that we create in communities throughout Ireland, to increase the diversity of perspectives on our programmes and within our organisation, and to ensure that our programmes remain inclusive for all leaders of Ireland.

To succeed, we will strive to creatively engage our supporter network and increase the number of opportunities available to connect, while maintaining the value and professional quality of our programmes. We will continue to build on our independence, strong reputation, and our global reach.
Our Strategic Goals

To support our mission Common Purpose Ireland are working towards three strategic goals:

Accessible and independent leadership development
Our alumni hail from all sectors and a diverse range of industries and backgrounds. We aim to ensure our sustainability to remain independent while removing fees as barrier to participation.

High quality programmes that support leaders in creating change
Our dynamic programmes provide meaningful context, experiential learning and the insight to innovate, reflect and solve complex problems.

A more connected and impactful society
To create broad scale change we must extend our reach to more leaders, from more diverse backgrounds, in more spaces so that meaningful connections can be made.

In everything we do, both inside and outside the global organisation, we strive to apply the beliefs, aims and ethos of the Common Purpose Charter.

Our Charter

Diversity
We celebrate diversity and are committed to inclusivity. We recognise the value, role and contribution of each individual, respect difference and see a diverse staff group as a strength. We are committed to maximising potential and actively promote equality of opportunity.

Leadership
We respond decisively to conditions and circumstances, building and developing effective teams and communication systems. People are clear about the decision-making process and their own role within that. By devolving decision-making to the lowest appropriate level, we encourage everyone to take a lead.

Independence
We guard our independence fiercely, ensuring our actions do not compromise our policy of non-alignment, even if this means missing opportunities or taking longer to achieve the objective. We do not however provide a platform for those who seek anti-democratic or violent solutions, or those who incite intolerance or hatred.

Context
We do not operate in isolation and give people a thorough understanding of the context in which they work. Staff strive to grasp how their towns and cities work, as well as the sectors operating within them. Individuals are clear about the vision of Common Purpose and their role within it and know how they can contribute to the whole. People are kept informed about what is going on in the organisation.

Professionalism
In all aspects of management and delivery, we aspire to the highest levels of skill and professionalism, both with our staff and with our customers. We pay great attention to detail, at the risk of appearing finicky, and always acknowledge requests for help or information, even if we cannot comply immediately. People show loyalty and respect for their colleagues. Issues are raised promptly and discussed at an appropriate time in a constructive and professional manner. People are ready to apologise where appropriate, and also to thank colleagues when appropriate.

Creativity
We encourage everyone to be creative and innovative, striving for continual development and resisting complacency. We would prefer people to risk making mistakes, rather than remain safely within their comfort zone.
Our Ethos

Crossing Boundaries
Common Purpose draws on the widest possible variety of sectors, areas, beliefs and social groups and brings together people who might otherwise never meet. As we create a common educational experience within and across many countries, Common Purpose remains independent and non-aligned.

Engaging Content
Common Purpose programme content is consistently relevant, thought-provoking and interactive. Our programmes provide unique insights into how leaders from all walks of life tackle day to day challenges, delivered through a variety of modules and interactions.

Staying Relevant
Common Purpose is committed to delivering dynamic and engaging programmes. Our programmes are continuously reviewed by participants and KPIs are measured to ensure that the quality and relevance of each programme is maintained.

Safe Environment
The internationally recognised Chatham House Rule is respected on all Common Purpose programmes as an aid to free discussion which allows for a greater openness and sharing of information in a safe environment.

Ensuring Programme Quality
The Common Purpose Team is committed to building successes through a high standard of professionalism delivering quality, taking risks, adapting and evolving as society does across time and place and context.

Maintaining Independence
Common Purpose owes no historical or other allegiance to any particular group. Our independence is reflected in our governance, finances, partnerships, behaviour and curriculum. Nominations to our programmes are reviewed without prejudice by independent Advisory Groups.

Removing Barriers
Common Purpose is self-financing, but we aim to ensure that programme fees are not a barrier to participation for those who are unable (as distinct from unwillingness) to pay.
Our Board of Directors

Our Board is a diverse group of individuals passionate about change and leadership for societal benefit. We aim to have our Board reflect the demographic of the cities in which we work.
